He opened a primary school in 1956 in the heart of Karavaloor village with an intention of providing education to all in this village. His vision and mission became fruitful and in 1966 the school has been upgraded as a high school

Sri Ponnappan Nair was the then headmaster. After his retirement he took the responsibility of managing the institution. Later in the year 1994 another institution named as NGPM CENTRAL SCHOOL has been started in a new building constructed during the golden jubilee year as a memorial of Smt Eswary amma wife of Sri Ponnappan Nair with a view to provide English Education to all children in the village

The responsibility of running the institution has been now given to Sri Prakash kumar. P, the fifth son of Sri.Ponnappan Nair.
